

At Least 4 Killed by Tornadoes

Dozen Communities Hit in Oklahoma; Slashes Across Kas., Skips Into Texas

By The Associated Press
A series of spring tornadoes that flailed Oklahoma Saturday killed at least four, injured 75, and did up to $2,000,000 in property damage.

A dozen communities were hit.

The deaths were at Norman, Meeker, McLoud and Utica. In addition, a fifth man is missing at Norman, home of the University of Oklahoma.

The name of the Norman victim, a national guardsman, was not released by the guard.

The latest tornado reported was at Utica, 15 miles southeast of Durant in southeastern Oklahoma. Next Pruitt, 30, was killed when a small tornado struck his farm house. His wife, 28, was critically injured. Three others in the house escaped serious hurts including Pruitt's brother, sister and her small child.

Child Killed

A seven-year-old girl, Anita True, was killed near Meeker, which is 30 miles east of Oklahoma City. A small boy was dead at McLoud, the blackberry growing center of Oklahoma, which is 20 miles east of Oklahoma City.

Kansas Tornadoes

GARDEN CITY, Kas., April 30.—Two tornadoes slashed across western Kansas this afternoon, but damage was not extensive and no injuries were reported.

One struck north of Garden City, and the other hit the small town of Oakley 80 miles straight north of here.

At Oakley, which has a population of 1,600, the roof was ripped off the Oakley flower shop, a Veterans of Foreign Wars hall was smashed to splinters, a garage and a trailer were blown over.

Miss Margaret Kellogg, telephone operator at Oakley, said many trees were torn to pieces by the terrific wind. She said the twister struck the town without warning, swooping out of a fast-moving thunderstorm. Heavy rain and some hail fell.

Hit Farmstead

The tornado north of Garden City hit the farmstead of J. E. Greathouse. A barn was unroofed, a windmill flattened and a chimney was knocked down. That twister dipped to earth at least four more times, but always in open country.

At the same time a violent hail storm was reported 25 miles northwest of Garden City by Mrs. Frank R. Gobleman, who said the ground was white after five minutes.

Cy Daniels, manager of a rural elevator brought one of the hail stones here and James Cornish, Garden City newspaperman, said the stone measured 11 inches in circumference.

Heavy Rain, No Hail

Heavy rain, but no hail, fell at Scott City 35 miles north of here. Another hail storm was reported north of Scott City.

Two airline pilots enroute from Denver to Kansas City, reported to their Garden City office they had sighted the biggest thunderstorm they ever had seen.

R. C. Montgomery, manager of the airlines office, said the pilots told him the thunderhead reached an altitude of 40,000 to 50,000 feet, nearly twice the height of normal storms. The storm was northwest of Garden City where the big hailstorm struck.

Dies of Heart Attack

BONHAM, Tex., April 30.—(AP)—A daily skipping tornado hit several times near here tonight, demolishing a number of farm homes and injuring at least seven members of one family. One man died, apparently of a heart attack, while he took shelter in a ditch.

Bob Cantrell of the Bonham Daily Favorite said the twister hit first southwest of Edhub, three miles from Bonham.

It demolished four wooden farm homes. Seven members of the J. E. Owens family suffered cuts and bruises when their home blew down around them.

The tornado struck a junkyard west of Bonham and tore down an out-building. Shortly afterwards, a twister passed over the east edge of town without striking the ground. Hail accompanied both storms.

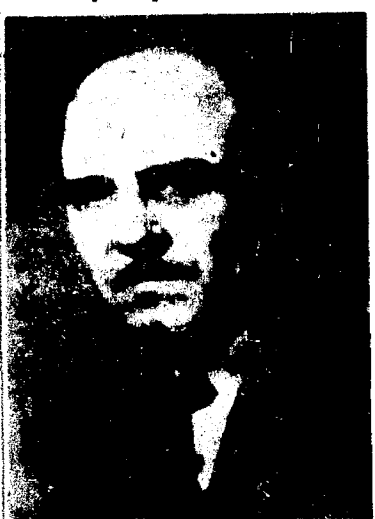

The man who died was J. E. Miller, 49. He and his wife were on their way to a neighbor's storm cellar on the northwest edge of Bonham when Miller told his wife, "I don't think I can make it. You go on—I'll just drop down in this ditch." When Mrs. Miller went back after reaching her storm shelter, he was dead.

Fewer Marriage Licenses

The issuance of marriage licenses is decreasing compared to 1948.

This month at the recorder's office, 35 licenses were issued, compared to 41 recorded for 1948. During March of this year, 22 marriage licenses were issued, compared to 25 during the same month in 1948.

Rotary Speaker

Henry C. Rethwisch, executive vice-president of the Missouri Chamber of Commerce at Jefferson City, will speak at the luncheon meeting of the Sedalia Rotary club at noon Monday. He will discuss the subject of vocational service. Mr. Rethwisch, a former mayor of Fayette, Mo., will attend a conference at Tlopija College, Eureka, Kas., Tuesday, called by Roger Babson, noted economist and founder of the college.

Brief List of Storms That Hit Southwest

(By the Associated Press)
Here is a brief list of the tornadoes that struck the southwest Saturday, killing two and injuring more than 50—

Oklahoma—North campus of the University of Oklahoma hit at least 42 injured, and at least one feared dead. Buildings, planes and equipment damaged. Damage upwards of $1,000,000.

Near Lawton—Several farm houses struck. Two semi-trailers carrying farm tractors smashed over. People had enough warning to get in storm cellars. Extent of damage not estimated.

Marlow—One room school house smashed northeast of Marlow. Pupils gone because of weekend holiday. None reported hurt. Damage not estimated.

Shawnee—Several houses wrecked 12 miles south of Shawnee near lake Shawnee. Two critically injured. No report on extent of damage.

Meeker—One dead, two hurt. Crescent school house destroyed. Other houses and barns wrecked.

Near Blanchard—One man injured, two houses blown away.

Agawam—Three hurt. Two cars damaged. Two houses demolished.

Antlers—Two hurt at farm near here.

McLoud—One dead, small damage outside of town.

Dale—Some houses damaged, estimate $50,000.

Kansas

Garden City—Tornado struck north of town, did farm damage, and continued over open ground.

Oakley—Roof ripped off Oakley Flower Shop in this town of 1,600.

YFW hall smashed completely, garage and trailer blown over, many trees ripped apart.

Texas

Bonham—Two tornadoes hit Bonham, home of Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn, now in Washington. First tore down telephone wires; second hit junkyard. No injuries.

Utica—One man killed and his wife critically injured, when a tornado struck their farm home. Three others in the house escaped serious injury.

Sterling—Two farm homes damaged southwest of here; hail hit town with stones large as baseballs, roofs, windows and signs badly damaged. Telephones limited. Flash flood conditions.

Pleased at Progress Of Meetings

President of UN Assembly Expects An Early Lifting Of Berlin Blockade

NEW YORK, April 30.—(AP)—The president of the United Nations Assembly, Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, said today he expected "early lifting" of the Berlin blockade.

This backed up officially views expressed by a number of U. N. delegates, who are pleased at the progress of secret East-West talks. Dr. Evatt added that this action would cover all disputes among the great powers, but would clear the ground for a fresh approach to the peace settlements for Germany and Japan. He issued a statement to newsmen as the U. N. Assembly voted on an American-backed resolution to open the discussions arising out of trials of churches in Hungary and Bulgaria to settlement under peace treaties with those Balkan countries.

The final Assembly vote in the row over the trials of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and 15 Hungarian Protestant clergymen was 35 to 6. The Russian bloc voted against it.

West Won Argument
The Russian bloc fought bitterly at every step of the case but the west won its argument that the peace treaty machinery should be used first to seek a settlement.

The Assembly kept the case before the U. N. until next fall to see what has been done since it acted. The Assembly also appealed to Bulgaria and Hungary to cooperate in reaching a settlement. Bulgaria and Hungary refused to accept an invitation to speak for themselves here.

Evatt's statement was the first public utterance he has made in this phase of the Berlin case.

Appealed To Get Together
Last fall in Paris he and Trygve Lie, U. N. secretary general, appealed to the chiefs of state of Russia, the United States, France and Britain to get together on Berlin and avoid further trouble.

They thanked Evatt and Lie but indicated they preferred to leave it in the Security Council.

Evatt has been informed of each step of the secret talks here between Dr. Philip C. Jessup, United States ambassador and Jakob A. Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister. All signs indicate the Russians and the west are reaching agreement on lifting the 10-months blockade.

Optimists to Hear Traveler

E. H. Scurlock of Kansas City, a well known traveler, will speak to the Optimist club here May 3.

Mr. Scurlock, acting as narrator will show a film concerning bull fights at the Plaza, Mexico City.

Torres in Mexico City with the narrator, who scored in the movie, "Blood and Sand." This picture also includes some scenes of deep sea fishing off the coast of Acapulco.

Mr. Scurlock, reared on a farm east of Warsaw, journeyed to Kansas City at the age of this year. He was a student at the University of Missouri at St. Louis.

For the past fifteen years he has been a movie camera enthusiast.

Bothwell Hospital Notes
Admitted for tonsillotomy: Miss Norma Hean Hansen, Sedalia, Route 2.

Admitted for medical treatment: Mrs. Edgar Richards, 119 East Seventh street.

Dismissed: Mrs. Charles Faulkner and son, of 420 West Seventh street and Mrs. Alfred P. Hall and son, of Clinton.

Dismissed: Mrs. James W. Turner, 300 West Third street; Gerald Nicholson, LaMonte; Norma Jean Hansen, Sedalia, Route 2; Richard York, 1621 South Speed avenue; James A. Brown, 1419 North Osage avenue.

Admitted for medical treatment: Mrs. Charles Homan, and son, 911 East Seventh street.

The condition of H. W. Golden, 313 West Seventh street, remains critical.

Mrs. Winston Brann, 1320 West Eleventh street, a patient suffering from tularemia (rabbit fever) was much better Saturday.

Paid Wolf Bounty

The county court approved a wolf bounty payment of $20 to Jack Stevens, Pettis county, for five young wolf scalps.

'Music Strengthens Friendly Ties,' Theme of Music Week

The twenty-fifth annual observance of National Music Week will be held May 1-8 inclusive, and will have as its keynote, "Music Strengthens Friendly Ties."

The United States has become a nation of music lovers and there has been a noticeable advance in the quality of the work of our composers and in the appreciation of American music by our own people and an increasing acceptance of our music in other countries.

Music, in all its forms and phases, constitutes one of our greater and nobler arts and the essence of culture. Music, which means so much to so many for so little, should be encouraged and immortalized universally.

Realizing the importance of music in the school, church, and home of the community, and because of the opportunity offered to bring out young talent in programs sponsored often, I am very anxious that our community shall enter into the interest of spreading more widely the enjoyment of and participation in music, May 1-8, as National Music Week in Sedalia.

During Music Week, let us all live and foster music. Mrs. Thomas W. Croxon, chairman of Music Week for the Helen G. Steele Music Club.

Women Meet Friday to Hear Guest Speaker

Dr. Andreas Bard, for the past forty years pastor of the St. Mark's Lutheran church, Kansas City, will be the speaker at the May Fellowship luncheon of the Sedalia Council of church women, Friday, at 1:00 o'clock at the First Christian church, Seventh street and Massachusetts avenue.

Dr. Andreas Bard

Dr. Bard is nationally known as a speaker on a great variety of subjects, covering literary, religious and political issues. He is author of several volumes of poetry, notably "Scattered Leaves" and "A Prelude to Love," also writer of "The Bride of Baghdad," which as a grand opera was presented at the Shrine Temple in 1932.

His lecture on "Ships that Pass in the Night," has appeared in several languages.

Other books are "A Tale That is Told," "Shall We Scrap The Ten Commandments?" and a philosophical treatise, entitled "Broadly Speaking." His name is in "Who's Who in America" also in the International Blue Book.

As an orator he has few peers in the pulpit, is the comment of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Youth Drowns In Taneycomo

BRANSON, Mo., April 30.—(AP)—An outing for a group of teenagers at Rockaway Beach, a resort near here, ended tragically this afternoon with the season's first drowning in Lake Taneycomo.

The state patrol and Taneycomo County Coroner, Harry Forsyth, identified the victim as Lloyd Pautsky, 18, of Decatur, Ark.

Forsyth said Pautsky and another teen-ager boy dove from a motor boat and began swimming toward an island 50 to 75 yards away. The coroner said Pautsky's companions saw him go down, since he was an excellent swimmer. The body was found in about an hour.

Forsyth said the youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pautsky of Decatur, a community in the northwest corner of 12 miles north of Siloam Springs.

Plans Complete to Last Detail To Resume Traffic to Berlin

BERLIN, April 30.—(AP)—Plans were complete to the last detail in western Germany tonight for resumption of traffic to Berlin, just in case of a May day announcement from Moscow on the blockades.

A Hamburg dispatch said west German railways were ready to start 30 freight trains a day to Berlin. Officials said they could dig 20 trainloads of coal to the city within 24 hours after being given the green light.

Hesitating a feeling of optimism, the Russians in this divided city granted three British demands with such cordiality that it represented almost a complete change of attitude.

British officials announced that the British and three enlisted men arrested by the Russians April 22 while on patrol near the Soviet border at Klein-Zachar, had been returned tonight. The Russians accepted the British demand for their release.

Returned Prisoners
The British promised not to interfere again with canal traffic in Britain's sector. They also returned, with an apology, three British military policemen seized yesterday during a raid on a British-occupied farm.

The two incidents first had western authorities puzzled because, while Soviet representalittle, should be encouraged and immortalized universally.

Realizing the importance of music in the school, church, and home of the community, and because of the opportunity offered to bring out young talent in programs sponsored often, I am very anxious that our community shall enter into the interest of spreading more widely the enjoyment of and participation in music, May 1-8, as National Music Week in Sedalia.

Burns to Death In Plane Crash

ROCKFORD, Ill., April 30.—(AP)—A Missouri woman was burned to death today and her son, a Chicagoan, was injured critically when their plane crashed at the Macabasco airport here.

Dead was Mrs. Helen Theobald, about 55, of Fayette, Mo. Her son, Richard Bullers, 33, was taken to hospital with third degree burns and several broken ribs.

Bullers was flying from Fayette, Mo., to Chicago. Bad weather apparently prompted him to land here. He circled the field twice and as he attempted to land, the plane hit a tree, nosed down and burst into flame.

Bullers tried to pull his mother out of the burning wreckage but was unsuccessful. She died in the plane.

Complaints of Dogs Running Over Gardens

Spring gardening has already brought protest from gardeners that dogs are running wild over their spring efforts as well as over flower gardens causing damage.

A warning is being issued by the police to all dog owners to keep their dogs confined to their own properties or the dogs will be picked up and turned over to the pound master.

Police of Police Edgar Neighbors, Saturday, reported his department has received numerous complaints about dogs running loose and asks the cooperation of their owners to keep them tied up.

If dogs are picked up by the police or pound master they are taken to the dog pound and before released a pound fee must be paid.

The Nationalist "gold" Yuan had become so nearly worthless that there were not enough bank notes to pay salaries.

To ease the situation, the government ordered the Central Bank to list 400,000 old Chinese silver dollars to employers at the rate of 4,000,000 Yuan to one dollar.

This was less than half the black market rate. It instructed employers to pay "common workers" one silver dollar each on account.

Living Index Up
At the same time it announced that the usual month-end cost of living index would not be issued, but the municipal authorities later announced an index anyhow.

It was 25 times what it was two weeks ago.

In this madhouse situation all sorts of makeshift agreements were being made between employers and workers for payment in food or in foreign currencies.

It was obvious, however, that many payrolls could not be met. If this situation worsens, Shanghai may see food riots and looting.

The well-dressed Communist military actions seemed to indicate that isolation rather than occupation was what they intended for Shanghai at present.

'Scarlet Perimeter' Around City
An intricate foreign resident, summed up the opinion of many in predicting the Reds would throw a "scarlet perimeter" around Shanghai while they "attended to more pressing matters elsewhere."

The Shanghai garrison's communiqué said that southwest of Shanghai one red column had reached Tsechen, 23 miles by road north of Hangchow.

It said other Communists had penetrated to Nanshan, 19 miles northwest of Kashing, but were being held in check by Nationalists at Chengetsech, 17 miles northwest of Kashing.

Admits Killing Her partner

HENRYETTA, Okla., April 30.—(AP)—A 50-year old divorcee is being held after telling officers she fired the bullet which killed her restaurant partner here, D. C. Callicut, 60.

Sheriff Jim Kirby said Mrs. Ann Willard telephoned him late last night she shot Callicut after he appeared before her only partially dressed yesterday afternoon.

The woman, divorced about a year, said the victim told her he would kill her unless she married him.

Then, Mrs. Willard said, she grabbed his gun, wresting it away. Mrs. Willard said she fired at him twice. A slug struck Callicut in the left temple and came out behind the right ear.

The woman said she stuffed the body in a closet and went to work.

Mrs. Willard is being held for the Oklahoma county grand jury, now in session.

She is the mother of three grown sons.

The fire companies at 10:09 o'clock Saturday morning were called to the residence of Shelby Ochirke, 2508 East Broadway, where a coal oil heater had overflowed. Slight damage resulted.

Financial Worries In Shanghai

Almost-Isolated City Pays Almost No Attention to War Situation

By Tom Lambert

SHANGHAI, April 30.—(AP)—Railway officials announced tonight that no trains were running past Kashing, 62 miles southwest of Shanghai.

The stoppage was not explained, but it might indicate the Communists had cut the line south of Kashing.

This would mean that the Shanghai area was isolated from the rest of China by land.

Communist troops in early afternoon had been officially reported by the Shanghai garrison to be 17 miles northwest of Kashing and 23 miles north of the important port of Hangchow, which is 121 miles by rail southwest of Shanghai.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—Gen. Claire Chennault, wartime leader of the famed "Flying Tigers," today was invited to give Congress members his views on American aid to the Chinese Nationalists.

The retired Air Force General is booked for two appearances on Capitol Hill next week; one before the Senate Foreign Relations committee on foreign aid funds, the other before the Senate armed services committee.

Other Communist forces were dallying along the westward approaches to Shanghai at a distance of about 35 miles.

Paid Little Attention
Although thus threatened, the greatest of Asiatic cities paid almost no attention to the war.

Instead, it was preoccupied with a dangerous month-end financial crisis.

The Nationalist "gold" Yuan had become so nearly worthless that there were not enough bank notes to pay salaries.

To ease the situation, the government ordered the Central Bank to list 400,000 old Chinese silver dollars to employers at the rate of 4,000,000 Yuan to one dollar.

Hal Boyle Says National Baby Week Honors Future Citizens

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP)—The Poor Man's Philosopher says: An adult has a sense of money. A child has a sense of money. Money isn't as funny to a child as it sometimes can be to a grownup with a sense of perspective.

A friend of mine earns his living in the hours between dusk and dawn. One day his small daughter came to him and said, "You know what the other kids call you?"—the Night Watchman.

Before he went to bed each morning my friend had a habit of putting the change in his pocket on the bureau top. Then he would joke:

"That's what they paid daddy today."

One day his daughter said to him: "Don't we ever make more than five bucks a day?"

It was only then that he learned his daughter had joined a social class above his own.

On another occasion he forgot to put some change on the bureau top. Before his daughter trotted off to school, she shook him awake and said:

"Why don't they pay you more today?"

Another friend of mine has a timid son whom he is trying to make into a rugged citizen.

When he complained he had been beaten up by his school-mates, his father said:

"The next time you throw the first fist."

A few days later the boy, who was in the third grade, came home and told his father he had thrown the first fist when attacked.

The proud father wanted to know what happened.

"Well, it was a second-grader," his son said.

His disappointed father, hoping the boy's adversary was at least bigger than he, then asked, "What happened?"

"Well," his son replied, "she said mean things about me."

No man ever died of admiration.

A woman with a mirror is never without a critic — or an admirer.

The world is a golden round. Life comes full circle. No one can cheat you except yourself. And no one in the final showdown can reward you except yourself.

The hardest thing for an honest man to do is to admire himself. But he never quits trying.

A platitude is a pasture of a bovine mind.

Vitamins will never be really healthy until they can take people three times a day with or without water.

Music is One of The Greatest Possessions Man Can Claim

With the proclaiming of Music Week as May 1-8, it is a tribute to an art that knows no politics, or race. It is a tribute that is indeed justified for one of the greatest possessions man has, music.

Music is the art that employs sounds as a medium of artistic expression for what is not in the realm of literature, sculpture, painting, acting, or architecture. Music unites the inward feeling of which all other arts can only demonstrate, in actual form.

Several hundred years before the birth of Christ, the classic Greeks used music in chanting, with vocal modulations, the epic poems. They employed it in religious rites and to accompany military movements. Since these early days of harnessed music its growth has mingled through practically every phase of life, troubadours, choral tunes, Italian, German and English operas, the symphony, and the present day popular tunes.

Should Not Be Taken For Granted

Music is something that is too often taken for granted. With a click of a radio or phonograph switch, classics, semi-classics and music of all descriptions comes forth and is absorbed by unquestioning minds, it is heard and is usually forgotten. The hours of composition, arranging, rehearsals, and training, bring results that are not always appreciated.

Sedalia is fortunate to have many outstanding musicians. Abe Rosenthal conductor of the Sedalia Symphony and Sedalia Men's Choral club is perhaps one of the best known musicians in Sedalia and surrounding territory. The state wide recognition these organizations have obtained, under the direction of Mr. Rosenthal can be attributed not only to him but to the fine musicians that make up the organizations.

A "Keystone"

J. T. Alexander, director of music in the Sedalia public schools, has also been a "keystone" in the development of music in the public schools in Sedalia. His untiring efforts produce music organizations that play outstanding music and are appreciated by Sedalia music lovers.

The Helen G. Steele Music club is one of Sedalia's equally important music organizations. Its work for the betterment of young musicians, should not go unappreciated. It is undaunted work such as this that has advanced music to where it is now in the education systems of our local schools.

In the passing out of orchids to the contributors of music achievements in Sedalia, the private teachers who guide young musicians in the study of music, should receive their share. They are the real builders of our young musicians. It is their patience and tutoring that is conducive to these young people to achieve success.

All Should Be Interested
Music Week should not be thought of as something not concerning Sedalia, because it does. The citizens of Sedalia should get behind these local musicians and give them support to help them reach their ultimate goal. And while extending their support they should dip down in our vat of music resources and help themselves to the treasures of good music.

Explanation of Manly Togs For Little Men

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—What about the health of the 20,000,000 children between the ages of 5 and 17 in this country? If they have physical defects that are found and treated they can grow into healthy men and women. Otherwise, their lives are marred.

The Senate today tackled, and is expected to approve, a bill giving the states $35,000,000 to help them set up child health programs.

This won't become law, of course, unless the House also approves it at some later date in this session.

But this is the thinking of the senators—a number of democrats and Republicans—who have combined to push the bill: Many Have Defects

They figure in this country there are perhaps 7 1/2 million children with bad tonsils or adenoids; 4,000,000 with eye defects; 1,000,000 with ear defects; 500,000 with rheumatic fever; 200,000 with epilepsy; and 500,000 with other ailments.

In making a report on the bill, the senators say it has been estimated that 75 per cent of all school children need some dental care.

Periodic health examinations are needed to discover their ills and get them treatment so their trouble can be cured or checked.

About 36 of the 48 states now provide medical examinations or inspections of their school children.

Health Services Vary

In some of the states there are examinations every year, in some only every three or four years.

The health services for school children vary widely in thoroughness and effectiveness. Why?

Not enough money in some states to do a good or better job. This is true in most of the states, the senators report. They say:

In many areas and particularly those with low incomes and large numbers of children, the "prevailing school health programs, if any, are grossly inadequate."

Well, what can be done about it? The senators want the states to develop programs to give examinations in all schools, public and parochial, where it can be done at reasonable cost.

And, further, they want the states to provide treatment for free for mental and physical ills whenever the parents can't afford to pay.

In World War II, Selective Service records show about 5,000,000 men about 30 per cent of all those examined—were physically, mentally or emotionally unable to meet the standards of the armed forces.

Now would the money be spent? To get the full $35,000,000 provided for under this bill, the states would have to put up at least $25,000,000 of their own money.

Not all states would receive the same amount of government help. The richer ones, better able to afford good health programs, would receive a smaller percentage of government money than the poor ones.

For example: The richest states would have to match the government money given them dollar for dollar. This would be a 50-50 arrangement.

But the federal government would put up $3 for every $1 in the poorest states. This would be a 75-25 arrangement.

After finishing this child health bill, the Senate expects to consider and pass a bill giving $300,000,000 a year of government money to help the states do a better job of educating their children.

When the U. S. Army Engineer's band, carrying the 112 members of the Missouri Press Association on their fall outing, rounded the bend in the river near St. Charles it brought to the minds of Lindenwood college officials, who met the editors, the early days when the trek to the West followed the only highway, the Missouri river.

The visit of Missouri editors and publishers gave the college reception committee an opportunity of telling the press of Missouri the role St. Charles and Lindenwood college played in the development of the West.

The occasion evoked memories, too, of the Lewis and Clark and the General Fremont expeditions—and the area when the Boone's Lick Trail led westward from St. Charles.

Trappers, traders, zealous religious group and pioneers moving westward searching for land and opportunities came to the area near the confluence of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. In 1769, six years before the Battle of the Bull Run, these early settlers founded the town of St. Charles.

Four groups of people exerted influence on the social and cultural development of St. Charles. The Spanish influence was first manifested, then the French, next the American pioneers from Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, and finally the Germans, who contributed to the settlement of St. Charles.

Many Old Houses, many of them from 100 to 150 years old, still stand in St. Charles, one of the oldest cities in Missouri. The city soon became an educational center for in 1819 Mother DuChene, representing the sisters of the Sacred Heart, established an academy. It was the first school of the order in the United States and the first academy for girls west of the Mississippi.

In 1827 Mary Estlin Sibley, whose father was the first postmaster of St. Louis, established a school for women in a grove of linden trees on the outskirts of what was then the city boundary. Naturally, she named the school, which was to become the oldest college for women west of the Mississippi, Lindenwood.

With an enrollment of 500 girls from 33 states and 11 foreign countries, Lindenwood is now one of the outstanding institutions of its kind in the nation.

The city of St. Charles has its roots deep in Missouri's past for it was the first capital of the state.

Having designed properly masculine attire for her own offspring, the energetic Merry is now making the same boon available for other small he-men. She believes a boy child should wear pants from birth, and designs them with plenty of diaper-room. All are made with adjustable features to allow for growth. All are strictly man-tailored, with nary a ruffle or a bow.

This designer believes boys should be boys, from crib to college, and manages to make even the tiniest garments with a distinctly masculine air.

Heroic Mother Rescues Child

READING, Mass., April 30—(P) An heroic Reading mother jumped into the arms of a neighbor's ten-foot deep cesspool Friday to rescue her 21-month old son.

Mrs. Frances Dugan was watching her son Dennis at play when the wooden cover over the cesspool caved in, toppling the child into the pit.

Mrs. Dugan leaped in and went over her head in sewage, neighbors said. She struggled to her son and passed him up to a neighbor, Mrs. Ella Weymouth in whose yard the accident occurred.

Mrs. Weymouth ran into the street and stopped a passing mail truck operated by Roger Nichols of Epping, N. H.

Nichols tried to aid Mrs. Dugan, still in the muck of the pit.

"No, no take care of Denny," Mrs. Dugan cried.

Firemen arrived and pulled the mother out.

The Dugan physician, Dr. Thomas Halpin, said Dennis would be kept at a Winchester hospital several days for observation.

Dies Of Injury When Knocked Off For:

ST. LOUIS, April 30—(P)—Mrs. Minnie Obermeyer, 73, died Friday of a head injury suffered on Tuesday when she was knocked off a porch at her home in suburban Lemay during an argument with a grandson.

The grandson, William A. Obermeyer, 21, was held at the St. Louis county jail on a charge of common assault.

Julius Friedman, brother of Mrs. Obermeyer, told authorities his sister had remonstrated with her grandson for being drunk.

Friedman said he was knocked down twice when he went to the assistance of the elderly woman.

Ex-Sedalian Subject of Sketch In Kansas City Times Column

Walter McClure, former Sedalian and Pettis countian, was the subject of a sketch written by Landon Laird, in "About Town," Kansas City Times, last April 28.

Mrs. McClure, when in Sedalia as a child, lived in the old Capt. Foot house, on the northeast corner of Fifth street and Hancock avenue. The article follows:

"After more than twenty-three years of service as bellman at the Hotel Muehlebach, Walton McClure, 59, of 608 East Ninth street, is going to quit May 3 to start farming a 70-acre plot he and his wife have bought near Florence, Mo.

"I've worked nights for the last twenty-one years," McClure explained. "Now I'm going to start sleeping nights. I've got to get some sunshine, too."

"Because of his height, which is 4 feet 11 inches, and his weight, 106 pounds, McClure long has been known as Little Mac to employees and guests at the hotel. He has become acquainted with and served three presidents—Theodore Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman.

"Little Mac was working at the Hotel Fontenelle, Omaha, when he was assigned to the suite of President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

"T. R. was a stern, but always kindly, man with the help," McClure recalled. "He was a liberal tipper. He told me he wouldn't want me to lose money by waiting on him. When the Roosevelts left, Mrs. Roosevelt gave me all the flowers that had been sent to their room. I wasn't married at the time, so I divided the flowers between various Omaha hospitals."

"McClure had a warm spot in his heart for Herbert Hoover because we both were born in Iowa."

"Mr. Hoover gave us the instant impression of class," Little Mac said. "Class tells. I've found in my years of serving big and small people that the bigger they are the better they are."

"Of Harry Truman, Little Mac commented:

"His becoming president did not change him a bit. I knew him when he was county judge and a senator. I took him up in the elevator to the penthouse suite at the hotel one night. Due to a temporary mechanical difficulty, the elevator stopped a few inches from the level of the top floor.

"You'll have to step up a little bit, Mr. President," I warned him.

"I'm used to that, Mac," the president answered me. "The elevator in the White House acts the same way. Besides, I've been stepping up all my life."

"McClure estimates that he has worn out more than forty uniforms during his more than two decades at the Muehlebach. He says that professional men—particularly lawyers and doctors—are the best tipsters.

"Traveling men are on regular allowances or expense accounts, so their tips are average," he pointed out. "They might want to tip you more than they do, but their home offices won't allow it."

"Here's a surprise—McClure insists that women are better tipsters than men. Men sometimes purposely look the other way. Hollywood movie folk are invariably good tipsters. So are actors who play the Music Hall. McClure has received several $20 tips in his time and lots of $10 tips. A $20 tip was the highest he ever received.

"McClure's wife, Mrs. Ouida McClure, also is giving up a career here to start farming. She has been a special nurse on private duty for a considerable while.

"We haven't got much of a farm yet," McClure, always a modest man, mused. "I'll have to work it hard. But, shucks, we plan to get some chickens, a couple of cows, maybe a sow or two, and do our best. We're leaving the lights of Twelfth street and Baltimore avenue behind us. We've earned this and we're looking forward to it."

A Parking Place
BELLEVILLE, Mo., April 30—(P)—Maryland State Police were called to a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad crossing here about 4 a.m. Friday to investigate what they thought might be a suicide or murder attempt.

They found an amorous young couple who unwittingly chose the crossing for their (S) parking place.

Assessed $25,000 Fine On Tax Evasion

ST. LOUIS, April 30—(P)—August F. Koedding, Jr., a painting contractor, was fined $25,000 Friday on his plea of guilty to charges of evading payment of $62,741 in federal income taxes from 1933-43.

A two-year prison sentence was suspended by Federal District Judge George H. Moore. Assistant U. S. Attorney David M. Robinson told the court Koedding used many methods, including 12 aliases, to cover up his true income.

Koedding is president of the Koedding Painting Corporation, one of the largest in this area.

James J. Gallagher
Mrs. Lee Donahoe, 1903 South Stewart avenue, died Saturday evening, May 3, at her home.

James J. Gallagher, engineer, maintenance of way for the Missouri Kansas Texas Lines, who died Friday of a heart attack in Dallas, Texas, will be buried.

A native of Lamar, Mo., Mr. Gallagher entered Katy service as an instrument man in the engineering department at Parsons in 1919. This was immediately following his graduation from the University of Missouri, where he made a brilliant record as a football player and was first west of the Mississippi river to place on Walter Camp's all-American team. Before the end of 1919 he had earned his first promotion, being named assistant engineer at Parsons, Kas.

He transferred to Muskogee in a similar capacity in September, 1919.

Then came seven years of service as Katy roadmaster at Wichita Falls, Denison, Smithville, Texas and Boonville, Mo., from April, 1921, until October, 1928, when he was transferred to Dallas as general foreman. In January of the following year he became district engineer at Smithville, transferring to similar duties at Denison in October, 1931. He held that position when he was promoted to superintendent there on October 15, 1934. He became engineer, maintenance of way in March, 1934.

Mr. Gallagher is survived by his wife and daughter, Helen Lee, of Dallas and a son, James Lee Donahoe, of Sedalia, and two brothers, Henry and Tom Gallagher, of Junction City.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Sacred Heart cathedral, Dallas, Texas.

Interment will be in Junction City, Kansas.

Two Veteran M-K-T Men Are Retiring

Promotions of Several Employees Is Announced

DALLAS, Texas, May 1.—Retirement of two veteran superintendents and a series of promotions in the Katy's operating department has been announced by H. M. Warden, vice president and general manager of the Missouri Kansas Texas Lines, to become effective May 1.

FRED P. STOCKER

The retirement of F. P. Stocker, superintendent of the Katy's eastern district, Franklin, Mo., and H. W. Davidson, superintendent of the Katy's south Texas district, Smithville, Texas, were announced.

O. L. Crum, assistant superintendent of the Katy's northern district, Parsons, Kas., will replace Stocker. Crum's job will be filled by L. P. Ryan, assistant superintendent of the Katy's northwestern district, Wichita Falls, Texas, who will be succeeded by F. H. Schaller, superintendent, southern district, Muskogee. Succeeding Schaller will be P. C. Ellis, who has been superintendent of safety at Dallas.

B. A. McDonald, Dallas, former superintendent of rules, will take over the newly consolidated superintendent of rules safety.

At the same time, M. R. Cring, assistant to the president, public relations, has announced changes in the public relations department. Charles J. Knapp, formerly publicity representative, has been promoted to editor of the Katy Employees' Magazine and Public Relations Representative. The position of publicity representative has been filled by R. G. Craft, formerly of Austin, Texas. Both will be headquartered in St. Louis.

It's Eyes West for Politicians Eyeing the 1950 Vote

By Jack Bell
WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—Westward the course of politics takes its way!

With their minds on the 1950 congressional elections, Democrats are vying with Republicans attempting to prove that each loves the wide open spaces—and the people who live and vote in them—more than the other.

The political stake in the west is regarded so seriously here that Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath made the long trek recently to Albuquerque, N. M., to address a Jefferson-Jackson day dinner.

McGrath, a Rhode Islander, bonded up ahead of time and delivered quite a speech on reclamation. Before he got started, however, he reminded his listeners that a new apportionment of Congress is coming up after the 1950 census. With a shift of population westward, he said, they soon will have much more to say about how things are run in Washington.

Democratic Issues
If McGrath's speech can be taken as a sign, the Democrats are going to harp again in next year's elections on reclamation, public power and conservation, with a few choice cracks at Wall street thrown in.

Typical McGrath quote: "Water and power hold the key to the future of the west. To develop the well rounded economy which is its destiny, the west must throw off the shackles of Wall street monopoly which seeks to keep the west as a colonial empire to exploit."

McGrath acknowledged what Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, said all over the west last year—that the GOP 80th Congress had made a record-breaking appropriation of $250,000,000 for reclamation.

Counter Measures
But he charged that the Republicans had hunk the appropriation with "crippling limitations" x x x which sought to force reclamation to turn over public power from its dams for sale and exploitation, with a big windfall of profits by private power companies.

The Republicans already have been taking counter-measures. One of their scheduled series of regional conferences next fall will deal almost exclusively with a policy statement on problems of the west.

Just now most of the Republican power is concentrated on the middle-west. Senator Brewster of Maine, GOP senatorial campaign committee chairman, says he would like to see the 1950 election map settled there.

The Republican drive will be centered in holding Senate places now filled by GOP members in Ohio, Indiana, Missouri and Iowa and in attempts to knock off Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic Senate leader.

Eastern Took Lead
The GOP bid for favor in that section is typified by its campaign to offset the 1948 Democratic charges that the 80th Congress denied farmers grain storage facilities.

In fall of an easterner, Senator Williams (R-De) to take the lead recently in this effort. Williams charged in the Senate that actually the Department of Agriculture had sold, at a fraction of cost, government-owned grain bins that should have stored 250,000 bushels and had failed to use its authority to acquire others.

Brannan's "guaranteed-income" farm program has some of the Republicans quaking in their boots because it looks so tempting to both farmers and housewives.

The GOP hasn't come up with an answer yet, but perhaps it is significant that the party's farm leadership seems to be slipping away from Senator Aiken (R-Vt) and to be gravitating toward Senator Thye (R-Minn). They represent the kind of grain-growing farming the midwest knows. Aiken is more interested in milk production.

Elks Auxiliary Meeting
An all day meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the B. P. of Elks was held Thursday at the Elks Club.

A luncheon was served at the noon hour after which the afternoon was spent in playing cards.

White Sox Nose Out Browns 5-4

ST. LOUIS, April 30.—(AP)—Bills Pierce allowed just six hits and struck out eight as the Chicago White Sox nosed out the St. Louis Browns 5 to 4 today.

But Pierce had to have help from Matt Surkont to stop a late Browne rally.

With one man safe on an error and another on a hit, Manager Jack Onslow called in Surkont, who threw wild to allow a run in. But pinch-batter Hank Art, filed deep to centerfield and Bob Dillinger grounded out to end the game.

The Sox took the lead in the third when Pierce walked, Adams was safe on Dillinger's fumble, and Gordon Goldsberry walked, filling the stacks. Luke Appling fled out for the second out, Pierce scoring after the catch and Grover Bowers doubled for two more tallies.

Donkey Baseball At Housel Park

The Northeast Athletic club is sponsoring two donkey baseball games at Housel park this week. They will be held Monday and Tuesday evenings, beginning at 8:00 o'clock each night.

The donkeys will be ridden by a number of Sedalia business men who have volunteered their "services" and who say the "donks" can't get them down. Those who will be seen in action are Roy Burkholder, Bill Rissler, Jax Whitaker, Bob Reams, Herb Johnson, John Dirck, Gene Michael, Stevenson, Crouch, Bots Evans, Ned Duffield, Noah Letler, Raymond Schultz, Nelson White, Jimmie Myers, Harry Hatfield, Red Thomas, Vernon Dilton, Robert Ramey, Cecil Mayes, Jess Raybourn, Bob Long, Dan Barr, Charles Thompson, and George Thompson. Others are being contacted, and the events promise to be a real treat for the fans.

Proceeds will be used for baseball equipment for the Boys League being sponsored by the Northeast Athletic club. Tickets are now on sale by the members of the club and may be purchased at the gate either night.

Insurance Agent Goes to Boonville
Paul Gifford, of 717 Wilkerson, has received promotion from his present position of agent for the National Life and Accident Insurance Company of Nashville, Tenn., to superintendent of the Boonville-Marshall area. He will assume his new duties in Boonville on May 16.

Mrs. Gifford and their two sons, Paul, Jr., age two and one-half, and Ralph, age nine months, will move to Boonville as soon as a new home can be secured there and their present Sedalia residence disposed of.

Mr. Gifford entered the insurance business in Sedalia, and has been an agent here two years.

First Typing 35 Years With Blood Donors Accomplished

Under New Plan Of Hospital And Red Cross

The first typing of blood donors under the new Walking Blood Bank was accomplished Friday afternoon. The sponsors of this program were pleased with the types that happened to be present. Of the seven persons typed one had the rare RH negative type, three the much desired O type, three the common A type and one B type. It is deemed advisable to take blood from persons whose age is 21 to 50. According to the plan of this program the hospital makes no charge for this blood, there is a small administrative fee covering the expense of tubes, bottles and other equipment. Volunteers will register at the Red Cross Office, phone 618. As the need arises the hospital will ask the Red Cross to send donors to the hospital. All who will be typed and as many as needed will give blood at that time. When the Red Cross has as many names on file and typed as are thought necessary, then only those having the desired type will be called.

Red Cross Thinks

The functions of the Red Cross under the program are:

- (a) Furnish publicity.
- (b) Recruit donors.
- (c) Register donors and send to the hospital for typing.
- (d) After typing, the chapter will be advised in writing as to the type of each prospective donor.

(e) A register of the prospective donors and the donors' blood types, along with the addresses and telephone numbers, will be kept by the chapter. It also may be advisable to furnish the donor a card indicating his blood type.

(f) Someone in the chapter will be designated to have available at all times the information in the register and to contact the donor of the type required, when necessary. The chapter may even furnish transportation.

Sponsors' Duties
Following are the responsibilities of the sponsor:

- (a) Examination and medical selection of the donors.
- (b) Drawing the blood.
- (c) Typing and other laboratory procedures.

Reports Auto Is Sideswiped

Mrs. Leonard Corson, 1010 West Seventh street, reported to the police Saturday night a large truck sideswiped her car in the 300 block on South Ohio avenue, and the driver failed to stop. Witnesses obtained the license number of the truck which was turned over to the police.

A license check was made through the state highway patrol for the owner of the truck to whom the license was issued. The patrol was notified to be on the lookout for the truck and take the driver to the Sedalia police station.

A city warrant has been issued for the owner of the truck to whom the license was issued. It was not known if the owner was driving the vehicle at the time of the accident.

Sort of Embarrassing, Isn't It?

WASHINGTON, April 30.—One of the worst Washington lobbyists of the year is getting a job with the government, then use it as a springboard to secure a high-paying job in private industry. Some of the government officials who are working for the intricate problem of watch-making or selling, is a political private company with which he has a job even before he gets the job.

Recently the Waltham Watch Company received a $6,000,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. At the very same time it received the loan, the Waltham Watch Company hired one of the chief FRC officials who helped arrange the loan — J. H. Hagerly, head of the FRC's Boston office. Hagerly knows nothing about watch-making or selling; is a political protégé of ex-Senator Dave Walsh. But he handled the preliminary work for the Waltham loan, recommending it to the RFC in Washington. He was then getting a government salary of $10,000. But the minute Waltham got the loan, Hagerly left the RFC and went to work for Waltham at a salary of $30,000.

Query: Did Waltham offer the lush salary to Hagerly because he deserved it, or as a reward for helping swing the RFC loan? Another RFC Loan. Again, the RFC has given a $3,000,000 loan to the Plywood Plastics Corp., of Hampton, S. C. One of the RFC officials who helped arrange it was Sterling Foster. And now Foster has notified the RFC that he intends to go to work soon for the Plywood Plastics, the same company which borrowed $3,000,000. Foster will just about double his salary, getting $18,000 the first year and $22,000 by the third year.

Again query: Was this a reward for help in arranging the loan? The treasury's internal revenue bureau long ago got around this problem by refusing to let any of its retired personnel practice before the bureau until two years after resigning. But other government departments are lax, especially the Army and Navy.

One of the worst scandals in Washington is the number of high ranking Army and Navy officers now working for private industry in order to handle procurement contracts with the Army and Navy. Many of them still draw pensions from the U. S. government, plus income tax cuttings in addition to their lush private industry salaries.

New Judge Baldwin
Senator Ray Baldwin's acceptance of a supreme court judgeship in Connecticut illustrates a point which many people don't realize — the wear and tear to which we subject our public servants.

Senator Baldwin has been active in Connecticut politics for 29 years — a long time in any man's life. During that period he was subjected to the expense and the physical drain of running for statewide office in five elections in ten years. In other words, he ran for governor or senator an average of every two years.

During his 29 years in public office, a quirk of fate made it such that no Republican governor was ever in office at the right time to appoint him to the state supreme court — long Baldwin's chief ambition. Either Baldwin was governor and couldn't appoint himself, or a Democrat was governor and wouldn't appoint him.

So, the other day, Gov. Chester Bowles, hearing of Baldwin's long ambition, offered him appointment to the supreme court, and the senator naturally accepted. He will not take office until December by which time most major legislative matters will have been decided.

Not a few years ago, Herbert Hoover, sizing up Republican presidential timber, described Baldwin as the ablest governor in Republican ranks. As a senator, he has also lived up to this appraisal.

Aid to Education
Federal Aid to Education, which was blocked in the 80th Congress, is now pretty well set to roll through Congress — provided the Catholic church gives its blessing. In the past, the Catholics have put up a fight because religious schools are not included in the program. But Senate labor chairman Elbert Thomas of Utah has taken quiet steps to obtain Catholic cooperation and thus assure smooth sailing for the bill.

Thomas' first move was to invite two Catholics — Senators Howard McGrath of Rhode Island and James Murray of Montana — to join in sponsoring the bill. They warned, however, that if the Catholic hierarchy took a stand against the bill, they would have to reverse themselves.

Although Thomas did not include parochial schools in the bill because of the constitutional divorce of church and state, he tried to woo Catholic support by proposing that parochial schools be included in a federal health program for school children.

Senators Brian McMahon of Connecticut and Ed Johnson of Colorado promptly offered an amendment which would make health benefits available to parochial schools as part of the aid-to-education bill. But Thomas, wary of linking church schools with the education bill in any way, proposed a separate bill instead. This would authorize $35,000,000 for health benefits for both public and parochial schools.

Thomas now hopes to push both bills through Congress at the same time, appealing to the Catholics with the health bill and those against federal aid to parochial schools with the other bill.

Merry-Go-Round
New York's loyalty day parade today, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, should do more than certain witch hunts to stimulate thinking about the good old USA. . . . Look magazine, takes a certain look at city across the river this week. . . . South Dakota Democrats have found a candidate they believe can beat Sen. Chan Gurney in 1950 — Huron's new mayor, Dr. John S. Tschetter. The doctor has been chief of staff at the Catholic hospital in Huron — though he himself, is a Lutheran. . . . President Truman has asked his council of economic advisers for an up-to-date memorandum of the U. S. economic condition no later than May 15. Truman may use this memorandum as the basis for a new legislative request to Congress on economic control. The Ford Motor company will reject all demands by the auto workers union for wage increases at this time. Ford is already paying top wages.

Time of Year for Gardens, Fishing, Planning Vacation

It is that time of year when people are working in their gardens, going fishing or planning a vacation. Everywhere you go people are talking about one of those three things.

One young woman has had this past week a bright and shining sunburn from a fishing trip over the week end and another woman said they brought home enough fish for their relatives and some left over. The bed at home felt pretty good, though, after a night or so spent in a cabin.

Vacation planning is in the air with all manner of ideas on what to do on that vacation coming up. "I looked over our finances last night," one young woman remarked, "and I think we'll spend our vacation in our own backyard," to which another young woman replied with a little sigh, "I wish we had a backyard to spend a vacation in."

something of the kind, look at their hands a little unhappily. Somehow the rough, red hands with broken fingernails, blisters and cuts just don't seem to go with dress-up clothes. But housecleaning must be done and every woman gets a little thrill as her house becomes clean and shiny again after the smoke and dirt of

The grass is doing all right, too, this year. In fact, for those who have to cut it, it is doing too well. Recently a man was having some of his yard cemented for a driveway when a friend passed by. "What are you doing?" asked the friend, to which the man replied: "I'm having the yard cemented so I won't have to cut the grass." Maybe he's got something there.

MR. B decided to build a home.
He chose a contractor and paid him in installments during the build-

Upon completion, Mr. B inspected the house and paid the contractor in full. Shortly after Mr. B moved in, that his contractor had failed to pay

these bills—and was now insolvent.

At this point Mr. B consulted a lawyer, but it was too late to take the steps that would have protected

him. Mr. B faced the choice of paying the bills again or losing his new home.

Ragtime Takes Over in Britain As Nylon Shortage Looms

By Alvin Steinke
LONDON, April 30.—(P)—Jitterbugging is losing popularity in Great Britain and a potent reason, say the dancing masters, is the shortage of nylon stockings in the United Kingdom.

The indignation of parents of teen-age dancers couldn't stop the girls that less energetic steps are just as much fun—and cheaper.

"It's on the way out," said Jimmy Edwards, dance band leader whom the teen-agers regard as an infallible authority. "In London dance halls now the music must be sweet and low. It suits the me and the great majority of persons who go dancing."

The youngsters must have their fads and novelties, said another authority, Harry Parry, who manages non-jitterbugging dances.
They have found, he said, in ragtime and they don't feel a bit old-fashioned.

A Poplar Tune

Within the last few weeks a tune which has achieved surprising popularity is "Twelfth Street Rag," revived from the 1920's.

The generation which has discovered the pleasures of ragging does not remember 1920, of course, so ragtime has hit London's hundreds of dance halls with the impact of a bright new novelty.

Popular musicians had to be unable to keep up with the trend.
They have had to learn, or re-learn,
to play saxophones and banjos,
instruments which went out of fashion 20 years ago. Many new recordings are in the ragtime mode.

Two important Sedalia dates are May 3, Girl Scout Court of Awards at 7:30 Tuesday evening,
First Methodist church, Fourth street and Orange avenue. All Girl Scouts residing in the city event are asked to arrive by 7:15.

May 7, Brownie day, 10:30 a.m.
Saturday morning at the armory.
This party is for all Brownie Scouts in Sedalia. A Fly-Up ceremony for fourth grade Brownies will be in charge of Mrs. I. H.
Lerner.

A luncheon treat will be served at 12 o'clock. Mrs. Philip M.
McLaughlin, program chairman, and Mrs. J. M. Bailey, Brownie chairman, are sponsors of the party, assisted by the leaders.
Troop 9 Washington school had a busy day Saturday working to complete the repainting for second class rank. Meeting their leaders, Mrs. J. M. (Gause) and Mrs. Ed Ringen at Washington school, the first station was Engine House No. 1 where Lee May displayed great patience in explaining the intricacies of fire fighting to his young guests.

Then the Scouts hiked on to Liberty park where they enjoyed ed a picnic lunch. Tires and birds were the subjects of their discussion during the time in the park.
Troop members present were Deanne Gause, Janice Ringen, Marjorie Pierce, Suzanne Holt, Karren Clossing, Florence Miller, Roberta Jordan, Yvonne McVey.
Ronnie Gause was the "mascot."
Troop 10 Smith-Cotton 11th grade Girl Scouts enjoyed a hike to the waterworks Saturday with their leaders, Miss C. A. Freisberg and Miss Noel Tackett. A picnic lunch was much enjoyed.

Miss Frank Rouchka leader of Troop 34 Sacred Heart school of which her daughter Mary Margaret is a member, entertained with a birthday party in her home on Monday afternoon in her home.

Girl Scout troop 30 Broadway school went to the State park Knob Noster to explore the hills.
Many early wild flowers, blooming bushes, frogs a lizard and snake, provided splendid entertainment for the Scouts. Nois-bag lunches and So-Moles were devoured after the tramp. Mrs.
Paul Houston, troop leader, was assisted by troop mother, Mrs.
McCarl, Mrs. Tied Forester and Mrs. Virgil Bacon.

Troop 30 was very much concerned about the plight of little Kathy Pocus and with the help of Mrs. Houston collected waste fat which was sold and the proceeds sent to the rescue fund.

Basket Dinner School Closing

On Friday evening, a basket supper was held at the Greenfield school. Potted plants and cut spring flowers decorated the room.

The following program was presented following the supper:
Welcome, recitation, Betty Richter song by the school, "Love
Somebody," recitation, "Sister's Best Kisser," by Carol Reicke, song "I Threw a Kiss in the Ocean," playlet, "Cousin Imo-gen's Dinner," recitation by Kay Christian, song, "You Are My Sunshine," recitation, Walter Kroos, Jr. playlet, "Hamburger Stand," quartette, "You're the Only Star in My Blue Heaven," recitation, Margie Schnackenberg, recitation, Anna Ruth Kroos, playlet, "A Ticket for Amy," recitation, Betty Sue Wells, song,
"Far Away Places," recitation, Curtis Ficken, duet, "Smilin'
Through," recitation, Jessie May Kroos, play, "Wedding at Way-back," duet, band music, "Beautiful Days," inspirational address by Rev. Beck.

The graduate, Miss Wilma Schraeder, was presented with a gift from the teacher, Mrs. Maxine Christ. Special awards were given at the two pupils, Kay Christian and Margie Schnackenberg for perfect attendance. Mrs. Christ has been re-employed for the next school term.

On Thursday evening the school took part in the community
audience exercises at Ionia, where Rev. Perry Rowland, of Windon, was the guest speaker.

Woman Fatally Beaten In Her Store

ST. LOUIS, April 30.—(P)—A 58-year-old woman was fatally beaten in her grocery and confectionery Friday while apparently resisting bandits who escaped without looting the cash register.

The victim, Mrs. Rose Applebaum, was found unconscious on the floor by her husband, who she died later at city hospital of head injuries. She apparently had been beaten with three soft drink bottles, fragments of which were found nearby.

Police found three boxes of pennies, in addition to an undisclosed amount of money, in the cash register.

Mrs. Applebaum was the widow of Jacob Applebaum, former operator of the store, which is located at 2008 Cole.

Soldier Found Dead In Quarters

FORT SILL, Okla., April 30.—
(P)—The body of a 35-year-old Army sergeant was found Thursday night in his quarters at the Fort Sill, Okla., army post.

The soldier, Sgt. Howard E.
Newman, had been dead about 17
days, investigating officers said.
He apparently died of asphyxiation from gas fumes.

Newman served as a military scout for bodies of servicemen killed overseas. His headquarters were in Fort Worth but he maintained quarters for his family on the post here.

Newman's wife and two daughters, Flane 5, and Ivon, 3, have been visiting relatives in Madison, Ga. The body will be sent to Madison for burial.

Friends said Newman returned here from a funeral mission the night of April 10. His absence was not noticed because he was on frequent missions.

The body was found when Sgt.
Arthur H. Koss called the post fire department after noticing soot
on the windows in Newman's quarters.

Crowd At New Drive-In Theater

Sedalia's new 50 Highway Drive-in theater offered its first public show before a large crowd of automobile patrons Friday night, with even the weather adding to the success of the opening with a delightful spring evening.

A large number of motorists also drove around the theater for their first view of the massive structure at night, which is a striking array of floodlights, neon lights, and the attractive entrance west of the screen. Approaching Sedalia from the west the motorist sees a huge neon sign of white, red, and green identifying the theater, with the park-like driveways and admissions booths near the intersection of highway 50 and Main street.

Two large searchlights were among the other opening night
features that attracted the crowds.

Miss Mary Ann Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Higgins of Houstonia, and Mr. James Schondelmeyer, son of Mrs. Ray Schondelmeyer, also of Houstonia, were married in a double ring ceremony, Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church, with the Rev. Father Anthony Migoni, officiating.

The bride was dressed in white and wore a corsage of pink rose buds. She carried her first Communion prayer book which was also white. Her only ornament was a sweetheart necklace, a wedding gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Raymond Stockhurst, sister of the bride, who served as matron of honor, wore an aqua suit and picture hat. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Charles Schondelmeyer, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Members of each family witnessed the ceremony.

A reception was held in the evening at the bride's home, at which Mrs. Randolph Sewell of Sedalia sang, "At Dawning" by Cadman; "I Love You Truly" by Bond and "Sylvia" by Speaks. In the latter Mrs. Sewell changed the name Sylvia to Mary Ann. She was accompanied by Mrs. L. C. Tuck at the piano, Mrs. Ramon Wicker and Mrs. Wallace Smiley on violins.

Following the musical numbers the bride and groom cut the three-tiered wedding cake after which cake, coffee and punch were served by Mrs. Robert Higgins and daughter Helen, and Mrs. Keith Cook of St. Louis.

Guests from a distance were: Mrs. Keith Cook of St. Louis; Mrs. James Ryan, sister of the bride; Mr. Ryan and children Jimmie Joe and Elizabeth of Manhattan, Kas.; Miss Mary Frances Schondelmeyer, sister of the groom from Minneapolis; Miss Fannie Frowl of St. Louis. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. E. Cashman, was among the wedding guests.

The couple will reside at Cheyenne, Wyo., where the groom is stationed at Fort Francis Warren.

The bride was graduated from the Houstonia school, and attended Central Missouri State college. The bridegroom spent 22 months in the army.

Elected to Fla. Municipal Body

Mrs. Marguerite Phelan Brawley, former Sedalia, was recently elected a member of the Town Commission at Cocoa Beach, Fla., and the following article about her appeared in an Orlando, Fla., newspaper.

"Mrs. Marguerite Phelan Brawley has become a member of the Town Commission of Cocoa Beach, by virtue of her election in a three way race for the position.

"Mrs. Brawley ran ahead of two gentlemen, Mr. Robert Hare and Dr. H. G. Thistle, to win the election, to become the first woman member of a municipal governing body in Central Florida, so far as we can ascertain, and one of the few women to sit on such bodies in the state. Our best wishes to her as a member of the governing board."

Mrs. Brawley was the wife of the late Dr. J. F. Brawley, formerly of Jefferson City and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Phelan, former Sedalians, who now reside in Boonville.

Betty Grable Really Picked a Winner

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Betty Grable really picked a winner this time.

She and trumpeter Harry James spent a week watching the ponies at Golden Gate park in San Francisco just before husband Harry started a two-month tour with his band.

Harry's birthday came along during the week, and Betty bought him a horse named Penajo as a present. Harry rushed down and registered the horse, and the next day entered him at Golden Gate. Penajo came in first. To a horse family like the Jameses, there's no greater thrill.

Crusade Ends Sunday Night

The Evangelistic Crusade of the Harmony Baptist association will close Sunday night according to an announcement made today by the missionary, John B. Rollins. The evangelists and pastors held a fellowship dinner meeting at the Calvary Baptist church last Friday noon, and the reports of the Crusade given at that meeting is as follows: Thirty-six professions of faith received for baptism, and 21 additions by letter, making a total of 57 additions. The pastors expressed the belief that many others will be won by the time the Crusade closes tonight.

The First Baptist church will observe the Ordinance of Baptism following the services tonight. Also, the Calvary Baptist church plans a baptismal service tonight. The East Sedalia and the Smithton Baptist churches plan their baptismal service to be on Sunday night, May 8.

At the fellowship dinner meeting, Rev. Eugene Pratt, evangelist for the East Sedalia Baptist church, addressed the group of pastors and evangelists discussing the subject, "Evangelism of the New Testament Applied Today." Rev. Elbert L. Cornelius, chairman, called on the evangelists for short speeches, each giving a statement of his appreciation of pastors and the missionary set forth plans for another Evangelistic Crusade at this time next year.

Throwing Of Acid Charged

Alleged Against The Wife Of An American Officer

MUNICH, Germany, April 30.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of an American sergeant's wife accused of throwing acid on a German girl, Donald C. Noggle, military attaché, disclosed today.

The American woman was identified as Mrs. Lennie Martin and is reported to live in Picher, Okla., Noggle said. Government officials said Mrs. Martin was reported to have left this week for the United States aboard a Dutch ship.

The district attorney said Mrs. Martin is accused of throwing acid on Elizabeth Bauer, 18, and cutting off the German girl's hair in the belief she was friendly with the American woman's husband. Mrs. Martin is charged with causing Miss Bauer bodily harm and depriving her of liberty.

Noggle released the following version of the story through the military government's public relations department.

Mrs. Martin found the German girl's name on a slip of paper in her husband's pocket and became suspicious. She visited Miss Bauer and told the German girl not to see her husband, who is stationed at Neuburg Air Base.

Complaints To Authorities
Mrs. Martin was said later to have discovered that Miss Bauer again had been seeing her husband. The American woman, accompanied by her German maid, went to see the girl again.

The two women induced Miss Bauer to enter Mrs. Martin's car. The car was missing and that they wanted Miss Bauer to help find him. Once in the car, Mrs. Martin accused Miss Bauer of attacking her and bloodied her nose.

The German girl reached for her pocketbook for a handkerchief, and Mrs. Martin was said to have seen snapshots of her husband in the pocketbook.

Infuriated, Mrs. Martin, with the maid's help, cut the girl's hair. Then they are alleged to have poured a household cleaning disinfectant on her.

Miss Bauer complained to military government authorities.

Officials here said they did not know what steps if any will be taken to return Mrs. Martin to Germany for trial.

Rivalry Between American Fliers Helps Berlin Airlift

By Don Doane

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 30.—(AP)—Keen rivalry between young American fliers is helping speed those tonnage records on the Berlin airlift.

These eager youngsters have turned the grim business of feeding a blockaded city into a rab spirit of a college football sporting contest, with all the rivalry.

Each squadron and each group competes like a team to outdo its rivals. They've set up a scoring system as complicated as a baseball box score to determine the weekly and monthly winners.

Perennial champion in the "group" class is the 61st troop carrier group which flies C-54s from Frankfurt's big Rhein-Main airport.

Champion squadron — month after month — is the Navy's VR-8 squadron, a part of the 61st group.

Hero to His Men
One hero — at least to the men he commands — is Col. Richard W. DaVania, 40, of Paducah, Ky., commander of the 61st group.

When the stocky, energetic DaVania took over command of the 61st last August, it was in last place in the airlift race. Morale was bad. Efficiency was low.

A month later the 61st had climbed to second place. In December it moved into first. It's been there ever since.

"Why this rapid rise?" a reporter asked.

"Colonel DaVania, mostly," was the prompt answer from Maj. Raymond Buckwalter of Paradise, Pa., commander of the 61st's 13th squadron.

Enthusiastic agreement came from Maj. Albert H. Schneider of Cincinnati, Ohio, who commands the "Fighting 33rd" squadron, and Maj. James P. Ferrell of Seattle, Wash., commanding the 14th squadron. Both are in DaVania's group.

Credit Men's Morale
DaVania gives the credit to his men's morale and fighting spirit. "They won't be anything but first," he said.

Maj. Royce G. Olson of Thawville, Ill., the group's executive officer, says it was DaVania who built that morale.

"He's tough but fair and he backs up his men," Olson said. "He helps them work out their personal and family problems."

Morale is a problem where men work seven days a week, many far away from their families.

Whatever the cause, the 61st has a spirit like a bowl bound football team.

They follow the flying scores like a baseball pennant race. The pay-off score in the "utilization" figure. That shows how long they keep every plane in the air each day.

A Recent Mark
The 61st recently set a mark of 9.9 hours in the air every day with every plane assigned to the group. That's a record few thought possible a few months ago.

But you ought to see these air-force fliers' faces fall when you mention the Navy's airlift showing.

The VR-8 squadron is not only first, but the other Navy squadron, VR-6, rubs salt into the air force wounds by consistently ranking second among the squadrons.

The air force boys says the navy has an advantage in experience, with more veteran fliers, and more high ranking officers.

The navy squadron also is bigger in manpower.

Commander James O. Vosseller of Pensacola, Florida, who bosses VR-8, concedes some of the air force arguments.

But he's playing this airlift like a game, too.

"We didn't come clear over here from Honolulu to run second to the air force," he said with a grim smile.

That's the spirit behind these airlift records.

Lincoln Men In Plane Crash

William Balke Is Seriously Hurt And Pilot Is Injured

WARRENSBURG, Mo., April 30.—(AP)—Two men were injured, one dangerously, when their light plane crashed shortly after taking off from a pasture near here Friday.

William Balke, 23, a student at Central Missouri State College, suffered possible fractures of both legs and a head injury.

Ernie A. Fischer, 22, the pilot, suffered minor injuries. Both Fischer and Balke live at Lincoln, Mo., and were making the flight to their homes.

Witnesses said the plane crashed from an altitude of about 200 feet.

The plane occupied by Balke and Fischer was wrecked when it plummeted down about 12:45 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The two were given emergency treatment after removed from the field, which is alongside highway No. 13 about three-fourths of a mile south of the Warrensburg city limits. The plane did not take fire.

After receiving first aid treatment they were taken in Sweeney ambulance to the U. S. veterans facility at Wadsworth, Kas., for more complete examination and treatment. They were reported to have reached there in as good condition as could be expected considering the seriousness of the injuries to Balke.

Bond Drive Kick-Off Changed To May 16

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—The "kick off" of the national savings bond drive, originally set for May 15, a Sunday night, will take place the following night instead, the treasury announced on Friday night.

Ministers of Independence, Mo., President Truman's hometown, had protested against ceremonies planned for Sunday both in that community and in Kansas City.

The Independence Ministerial Alliance explained that it is the Sunday on which high school Baccalaureate services are held.

The four radio networks were scheduled to broadcast the campaign opening ceremonies at Independence, which call for a parade with a score of bands, and also a rally at Kansas City, with movie stars and a speech by President Truman.

A treasury announcement about the change in plans did not refer to the Ministerial protest.

"Owing to circumstances beyond his control," the treasury said in a statement, "the President has asked the four radio networks to use Monday, instead of Sunday, in opening the bond drive."

A treasury official, Louis Carow, said that NBC, ABC and Mutual already had agreed to the swap and that CBS was re-arranging its schedule for Monday night, May 16.

Stage is Set For Alger Hiss Perjury Trial-- It's Act 3 in 'Pumpkin Papers' Spy Drama

Whittaker Chambers: Evidence in a pumpkin. Alger Hiss: Denial in a $75,000 libel suit.

By Richard Kleiner
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — The curtain's about to go up on the next act of a gripping spy mystery melodrama entitled "The Story of Alger Hiss."

The scene will be a New York courtroom, where Alger Hiss will go on trial, charged with perjury. Hiss, of course, will be the star, but an ex-magazine editor named Whittaker Chambers will be prominently featured in the cast.

Act 2 in what has become the "pumpkin papers" mystery was to have opened last month, but a postponement was granted until April 11.

Specifically, Alger Hiss is being charged with lying when he testified that he had given no secret government papers to Chambers. Chambers, a reformed Communist, admitted that he was a courier for the Reds, getting papers from officials in Washington and taking them to the Communist underground headquarters in New York. He claimed that Hiss was one of his sources. Hiss denied it, but the two had differed before.

Act 1 opened with Chambers testifying before the House Un-American Activities Committee in Washington last August. As a former Communist, he said he had important evidence about Red infiltration into high government posts. He was going to corroborate the testimony of Elizabeth Bentley, he speculated spy queen, who also reformed.

On the witness stand, Chambers named names. One was that of Alger Hiss, a bright young man in the state department who had resigned to accept the post of president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

A Baltimore, Md., boy, Hiss was a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and Harvard Law School. He had served as secretary to the late supreme court justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. Then he had entered government service, first with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, later with the Department of Justice.

He went to the State Department in 1936 as a legal specialist. He was executive secretary of the Dumbarton Oaks Conference in 1944, advisor to Franklin Roosevelt at the Yalta Conference early in 1945, and finally secretary-general of the San Francisco Conference for Organization of the United Nations in the spring of that year.

But said Chambers, Hiss was a Communist and gave him papers which he knew were going to the Communist underground.

In the second scene of the first act, Hiss took the stand and denied everything. He had never given any papers, he said, and he didn't even know a Whittaker Chambers. Chambers had asserted the two were close friends and that when he (Chambers) quit the party, he had begged Hiss to help him in an emotional, tearful farewell.

The dramatic third scene to the first act took place a few weeks later. Hiss and Chambers confronted each other at the House committee hearing in Washington. Hiss looked Chambers over carefully, even inspecting his teeth. Finally, he concluded that he knew the man as "George Crossley," a free-lance magazine writer with bad teeth.

Chambers charged that Hiss turned over a 1929 Ford roadster to the Communist party, through a Red-owned service station. Hiss said he had given the car to "Crossley" when he sub-let him his apartment. The title of the car was found by investigators, and seemed to back up Chambers, although legal experts said that Hiss could be telling the truth.

In an interlude between acts on and two, Chambers repeated his story about Hiss on the "Meet the Press" radio program late last August. Hiss promptly answered with a $75,000 libel suit against Chambers which is still pending.

The government, faced with the two completely conflicting stories which apparently could not be proved or disproved, announced on Dec. 1 that unless other evidence was forthcoming, it would drop the Hiss case.

The further evidence was produced with a bang as the curtain rose for Act 2 just three days later. The stage showed Chambers' farm at Westminster, Md., with the pudgy editor busy with a pumpkin. From the hollow interior he took a role of microfilm. When this was developed, it revealed a sheaf of secret and confidential papers from the state and navy departments.

Some of the papers allegedly were in Hiss' handwriting. Others it was claimed, were written on a typewriter belonging to Hiss. Chambers maintained that these were the papers Hiss had turned over to him. He said the typed ones had been brought home by Hiss and typed by his wife.

On Dec. 6, Chambers specifically stated that some of these documents were turned over to him

By Hiss, in 1937 and 1938, for re-delivery to a Russian secret police agent. This, again, Hiss categorically denied.

On Dec. 10, Chambers resigned his post on Time Magazine. On Dec. 13, Hiss tried to resign the presidency of the Carnegie Endowment, but his offer was tabled and he was placed on leave of absence.

So all the old characters, and one new one, —Hiss' attorney — Lloyd Paul Stryker, the man who defended Jimmy Hines, are ready for their cues.

Places, everyone, curtain's going up.

Commercial Fisherman is Senate Page

Plays in Dance Band on Nights He Doesn't Work

By The Associated Press

JEFFERSON CITY, April 30—One of the busiest fellows around the legislature is James (Jimmy) Dunnivant, who is 25, also is a commercial fisherman. He checks his Missouri river nets early in the morning before starting to work for the Senate, and again at night.

the "gitter" in a dance band, sometimes four or five nights a week.

Between times he's a speed boat fan and squirrel hunter. This time of year he likes to get out in the woods to hunt for mushrooms, too.

Strange and wonderful are the special languages of the law.

For example, there's a bill in the legislature setting interest rates for pawnshops. But there's nothing in the bill about a pawnshop loan. Instead they're called "secured personal credit loans." Sponsors call it "face lifting."

Another bill calls sex perverts "psychopathic sexual deviates."

Anybody here know a good gardener who wants a job? Gov. Forrest Smith said he had inquired everywhere — including the state penitentiary — and hadn't been able to find a gardener to take care of the grounds at the executive mansion.

According to the governor's count, there are now 5,300 state employees under the merit system. The state employs about 14,000 persons altogether, including about 5,000 in state schools and the highway department.

Yellowstone Park Plans Another Big Tourist Year

With a 1948 attendance of more than a million visitors for the first time in its history, Yellowstone National Park is preparing for another heavy travel season, which opens June 20.

America's oldest and largest national park "picks 'em in" year after year because of its wide variety of attractions, according to W. F. Goodnight, general agent Northern Pacific Railway, the "Yellowstone Park Line," which serves three of the park's gateways. Emerson Hough, the writer, described it thus:

"Of all the national parks, Yellowstone is the wildest and most universal in its appeal. There is more to see there — more different sorts of things, more natural wonders, more strange and curious things, more scope, more variety — a longer list of astonishing sights — than any half dozen of the other parks combined could offer. Daily new, always strange, ever full of change, it is the circus park.

The park is best known for its painted grand canyon, Old Faithful geyser and its bears and other wild animals, but its mountains, lakes, streams and waterfalls alone make it worth going far to see.

"The Athletics look like another Winning ball club," says manager

Manager Joe Tucker has been putting the Sedalia Athletics through their paces the last few weeks, and says the boys look great this year, and predicts they will be right on top all season.

Last year the Athletics compiled an impressive record of 29 wins against 7 losses, and won second place in the state semi-pro tournament

Supporting Manager Tucker this year is the Badalla Athletic Association, composed of Jack Cunningham, president, Ivan Berry, vice-president, Paul Maxwell secretary, William Bunn, treasurer, and O. W. Wiley, John Van Dyne, Ben Robinson, Alie Silverman, Bert Hathaway, Lloyd Phillips, and Earl Potts Evans, directors.

The season's opener on May 8th against the Mead Outlets Union of Kansas City promises to be a thriller. Last year the Athletics were victorious when Guy Cartwright hit a home run with two in the sixth inning to win 3 to 0.

CHARLIE THOMPSON
Outfield

Manager Tucker will be at the helm of the Athletics this season which means that Sedalia will have a well managed club. Joe has been managing and umpiring for many years both in the Western Association and the Three-I League and prior to that was an outstanding ball player. He resides in Tipton, Missouri and makes regular trips here to manage and umpire the ball club.

Joe is a student of Central Missouri Teachers College at Warrensburg and hails from Mt. Charles, Missouri where he played ball prior to his hitch in the U. S. Army. Manager Tucker has been impressed with the hitting and fielding of this young second bas man and says he is sure to be a regular with the team this season.

Elwood played a lot of ball with the Athletics last year and is back again and ready to turn in another good season. Mac started playing ball in 1911 with the Sedalia Minors of the Ben Johnson League and has played with the Marshall Major All Stars and the Sedalia Merchants. He is a great hustler behind home plate and has plenty of speed. He throws and bats right handed.

Charles has grown up in baseball. He started here in Sedalia with the Junior Legion, graduated to the Babe Johnson League and after doing a hitch for Uncle Sam played with West Texas and the New Mexico League. He played with the Merchants in 1947 and played a stellar year last season with the Athletics. You'll see a lot of fast action in the outfield this season if you keep your eye on Charlie.

• DATES OF HOME GAMES THIS SEASON

The Athletics are scheduling games for the following home dates. Already they have game confirmations from the Jefferson City Red Birds, who they will play on June 1st, The Kansas City Monarchs for May 27th, and the San Francisco Sea Lions for May 11th.

Alan Ladd as "Whispering Smith", current attraction at the Fox Theatre, sets two new firsts in his screen career—his first in technicolor, and his first outdoor thriller. Robert Preston, Brenda Marshall and William Demarest are featured in the actionful story of the old west.

Two top action stars rated by film fans as the leaders in the adventure field appear in the double-bill action program starting today at the Uptown Theatre. . . Johnny "Tarzan" Weissmuller today at the Uptown Theatre. . . "Jungle Jim" adventure in darkest Africa, while Gene Autry, celebrated singing cowboy of the wild and woolly west appears in "The Last Round-Up," along with Jean Heather, Ralph Morgan and The Texas Rangers.

Alano Doss, master mentalist and psycho-analyst, has been booked for a personal appearance at the Fox Theatre for one week starting Thursday, May 13, in one of the stage's most unusual presentations. Doss is not entirely new to Sedalia audiences, as he appeared in a most successful engagement here four years ago.

ing, loving, hard-swinging Scottish Highlander of the 18th Century. Danger is his boon companion, glow his first love—but a forbidden kiss almost proves his undoing . . . when he defies a deadly family feud to woo lovely Ellen Drew of the Clan Glorvan!

Miss Drew, last seen in "Johnny O'Clock," is making her first appearance in quite some time in a costume drama. She is reported to make a beautiful and appealing heroine. George Macready, the villain whose sword play proves to be no match for Parks, is an old hand at playing in romantic adventures and he last appeared in "The Return of Monte Cristo."

"Swordsmen" in Color at 50 Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre

Larry Parks, the exciting star of "Down To Earth," and "The Jolson Story," is reported to have a dashing new type of role in the thrilling new Technicolor swash-buckler, "The Swordsmen," showing at the new 50 Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre today and Monday. Advance reports are already blaring forth the news that Parks gives a performance that will rank alongside those of the greatest screen swashbucklers of all time. He is being compared to such outstanding and daring habitués of cloak-and-dagger films of the past and present as Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., Ronald Colman, Errol Flynn and Cornel Wilde. Parks is said to have the clan and dash required to carry off such a role with the utmost credibility and appeal.

As Alexander MacArden of the Clan MacArden, Parks is a fight-

LISTEN!
Jim Carson
Of the many outstanding Sunday features heard on KMBC, we'd like to mention two particular programs. This afternoon at 2 o'clock the New York Philharmonic, under the direction of Bruno Walter, will conduct the Beethoven's Symphony No. 6, as part of the concluding broadcast on the current series.

This evening at 8 on KMBC, Helen Hayes will star in Noel Coward's short story, "Brief Encounter." Veteran actor John Williams will appear opposite Miss Hayes in this story of frustrated love.

Caroline Ellis, director of the KMBC Happy Home program at 9:30 each morning, "Monday through Friday" is a 15-year veteran of radio. And, she's just as enthusiastic today as she was years ago when first "breaking in" to the radio profession. Her morning programs are interesting, as all of you loyal listeners know, and remind us of a thoroughly satisfying visit with a good friend. Caroline's a great favorite of ours, and if you listen to her for a couple of mornings, we know she'll be one of your favorites, too!

The Kentucky Derby, with Clem McCarthy and Bill Corum at the microphone, will be a feature on KMBC this next Saturday afternoon at 4:15. It's one of the top sports events of the year, and with a field of crack horses, it will be a thrilling event direct from Churchill Downs.

Jed Starkey, droll comedian heard on Dinnerbell Roundup, Brush Creek Folies and on his own Corn Crib Comedy program at 5 p. m. each morning, is a versatile and talented entertainer. Jed's dry wit is always good for laughs, and his mastery of some half-dozen instruments, from the tin whistle to the balloon, makes him a valuable member of the KMBC staff. In addition, he's developed his hobby of painting. Jed does some very fine work in water colors and an occasional oil painting. He specializes in landscapes, and does a much better than average job!

"Miss Tatlock's Millions" is the story to be featured on Radio Theatre Monday evening at 8:00 p. m. on KMBC. John Lund and Wanda Hendrix star in their original movie roles, and it's a story that is fast, funny and furious. It's a mixed-up affair involving an heir to a family fortune, and the climax is exciting and amusing.

The 30 members of The KMBC-KRM Talent staff are featured every Saturday night at Ivanhoe Temple in the midwest's biggest stage show, "Brush Creek Folies." The stage show runs from 8:30 until 10:30 and is broadcast over KMBC from 9 until 9:30, and from 9:45 until 10:30 each Saturday night. It's a tenebrous, fun-packed program featuring all the "kank" and features all the top-notch talent heard daily on KMBC. We'd like to suggest that you take in one of these Saturday night shows, because we know you'll get a big kick out of it. Or, if you can't attend in person, tune in for this swell program.

PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE
Pursuant to the powers contained in the will of Anna R. Grant,
I will at 2:00 P. M., ON SAT., MAY 7th, 1949, at the west front door of the Court House in Sedalia, Mo., sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the following real estate located in Pettis County, Mo.:

Tract 1. 80 acres, S.W. 1/4 of N.E. 1/4 and N.W. 1/4 of S.E.
1/4 of Sec. 33, Twp. 45 Range 20. Located 8 miles S.E. of Sedalia in Smithton Township. Prairie and some timber. No improvements. If cleared up and sown to lespedeza will make good pasture for adjoining neighbor. Purchaser can procure loan up to $900.
5 years, 5%.

Tract 2. 39 acres, more or less. All of the N. 1/2 of Lot 4 of the N.W. 1/4 of Sec. 19, Twp. 45, Range 20, lying North of Flat creek, making the N. bank of said creek the line. Located about 4 miles S.E. of Sedalia, gravel road along N. side. Power line.
Well at excellent building site where former house was. About 8 acres cleared, balance in timber. Some saw timber. An opportunity for many persons (who attempted to buy this tract from Mrs.
Grant for an outing cabin or country home) to buy at the figure they set.

Mobile Sawmill goes hunting for the woods.

Logging rig is set up ready for business.

AP Newsfeatures
MORGANTOWN, W. V. — Fabulous Paul Bunyan would be wondered if he traveled through West Virginia forest lands this year.

For operating in the Mountain State's wooded areas is a man-made machine that would put Bunyan's feats to shame.

It's a mobile circular sawmill that will produce 3,000 to 5,000 feet of well-sawed lumber per day, including edging on the headsaw. It can handle logs up to 18 feet long with the diameter limited only by the size that the 56-inch headsaw can break down.

It was designed by State Foresters J. B. Byers and R. S.
Lockwood as an answer to the problem of handling the trees on relatively small woodyards that would not justify erection of a permanent mill.

The mill is a fast-cutting unit that can move from woodlot to woodlot and can pay its own way when 10,000 board feet, or sometimes less, are handled.

A truck-trailer unit, it can be set up for work in three hours, in two hours it can be torn down and ready for travel.
